

The Pup Patrol

reminds us that we may look a little different from each other, but each of us is precious to God and should be treated with respect.

